COURTNEY R. STACEY, AUSTIN J.
STACEY, MARK A. MEYER, and STEVEN

Defendants.

AMENDED MEMORANDUM AND ORDER

This matter is before the Court on the Motion for Release of Funds, Filing No. 47, filed by Defendants Courtney R. Stacey, and Austin J. Stacey (“the Staceys” or “the Stacey Defendants”) responding to the memorandum and order of this Court, Filing No. 46. The Court has jurisdiction over this interpleader action under 28 U.S.C. § 1335.

BACKGROUND

The interpleaded funds at issue were held by Plaintiff Minnesota Life Insurance Company (“Minnesota Life”) in one life insurance policy and two annuity contracts on behalf of Molly R. Stacey, now deceased. Filing No. 1 at 1. Minnesota Life filed their Interpleader Complaint seeking to “resolve competing claims among potential beneficiaries to [these] Minnesota Life contracts.” Id. Minnesota Life’s concerns of competing complaints stemmed from a pending Nebraska state-court appeal the Stacey Defendants were litigating against co-defendants Mark A. Meyer and Steven Greg Meyer (“Meyer Defendants”) concerning the interpleaded funds. Filing No. 1 at 9–11. Both groups of defendants claimed a right to the interpleaded funds, and the Stacey Defendants prevailed in Nebraska trial court. Filing No. 1 at 7–8.

While the Meyer Defendants’ state-court appeal was pending, the Stacey Defendants filed a counterclaim against Minnesota Life. Filing No. 14. The Staceys alleged that despite the pending appeal of the Meyer Defendants before the Nebraska Supreme Court it would not “expose Minnesota Life to a potential liability.” Filing No. 14 at 2. The Stacey Defendants later moved for summary judgment and asked the Court to release the funds to them. Filing No. 29. However, the motion for summary judgment became moot when the state appellate case ended in the Staceys’ favor, and the Court therefore dismissed the motion. Filing No. 46 at 2.

Most recently, because the state appeal was complete and ended in the Stacey Defendants’ favor, this Court instructed the Stacey Defendants to file a motion to finally distribute the interpleaded funds. Id. Therefore, the funds are to be distributed as indicated below.

LIFE INSURANCE POLICY NUMBER 2484040N

Stacey and Austin J. Stacey. Any
